LIFE INSURANCE.

When the State Legislature of Florids had that insurance bill up for consideration at the last session, many people phos-phosed the idea, but it seems to quite a number at the pres ent time that Governor Broward had a sensible conception of the matter, and it is now conceded that the State would have been lucky had the measure been made a law. So positive are some that it would have been a benefit not only to the State, but to those who desire insurance, that it has been hinted that a special session of the Legislature, for the purpose of passing such a measure, would be a great benefit to smalled to any part of the United States, postage | the people of the State and to the ex-
